Life After Darkness: Finding Healing and Happiness After the Cleveland Kidnappings

by Michelle Knight
From Michelle Knight, Cleveland kidnapping survivor and number one New York Times best-selling author of Finding Me, comes an inspirational book about healing and resilience, on the five-year anniversary of her escape.

A Higher Loyalty: Truth, Lies, and Leadership

by James Comey
Former FBI director James Comey shares his never-before-told experiences from some of the highest-stakes situations of his career in the past two decades of American government, exploring what good, ethical leadership looks like, and how it drives sound decisions.

Not That Bad: Dispatches From Rape Culture

by Roxane Gay
Edited and with an introduction by Roxane Gay, the New York Times best-selling and deeply beloved author of Bad Feminist and Hunger, this anthology of first-person essays tackles rape, assault and harassment head-on.

Calypso by David Sedaris
With Calypso, Sedaris sets his formidable powers of observation toward middle age and mortality. This is beach reading for people who detest beaches, required reading for those who loathe small talk and love a good tumor joke. Calypso is simultaneously Sedaris's darkest and warmest book yet – and it just might be his very best.

Three Days in Moscow: Ronald Reagan and the Fall of the Soviet Empire

by Bret Baier
The number one best-selling author and award-winning anchor of Special Report with Bret Baier reveals as never before Reagan's dramatic battle to win the Cold War.

The Restless Wave: Good Causes, Great Fights and Other Appreciations

In this candid new political memoir from Senator John McCain, an American hero reflects on his life – and what matters most.
