

A large rectangular frame with a decorative, jagged black border. The border consists of a series of sharp, repeating triangular and rectangular shapes that create a serrated or 'toothed' appearance. The interior of the frame is a solid, light gray color, providing a high-contrast background for any text or graphics that might be placed within it. The frame is centered and occupies most of the page area.

[illegible]